

Hudson Heights Eruv

Eruv Notes

- The “Hudson Heights Eruv” is indicated in blue. This eruv borders the YU eruv, indicated in green, and thus you can carry between the two eruvim. Please visit www.yueruv.org for the details of that eruv.
- The Ft. Tryon buildings north of 192nd St. can only be accessed from the entrances on 192nd or Bennett; do not enter or exit those buildings from Broadway, since the building itself forms the eastern wall of the eruv.
- Fort Tryon Park and Margaret Corbin Circle are not in the eruv. The playground on the west side of Ft Wash, south of the circle, is included, as is Bennett Park on Ft Wash between 183rd and 185th. The park with the tennis courts across the street from the playground (past the stairs to the 190th St A station), is outside the eruv, as are those stairs.
- 181st St west of the entrance to 867 W 181st St (between Cabrini and Haven) is outside the eruv.
- You can cross Broadway on both sides of any street between 183rd and 187th, inclusive.
- You should avoid carrying on 182nd between Broadway and Wadsworth.
- If the entrance to a building is in the eruv, then the building is in the eruv.
- Please contact the eruv committee or the Rabbi with any questions regarding the boundaries of the eruv.
